Trial Ex. 99	P	03/24/2017 Email from Tom Hallstrom to Ezra Friedman and Anthony Collin re SBF & CFA working together? Re: Ezra from Smart ISO agreement for Tom	CC4662-CC4666	Abraham Cohen: likelihood of confusion	Defendants: H	Plaintiff: Pursuant to FRE803(1), FRE803(3), and/or FRE807, Mr. Hallstrom's statements in TX099 demonstrate his then-existing state of mind (i.e., confusion) and present sense impression of what had been communicated to him during a telephone call with Mr. Cohen. Further, pursuant to FRE803(6), the document is a business record of Collins Cash, that was produced by Collins Cash in this case. Plaintiff expects that Mr. Cohen will verify that the record was contemporaneous and kept in the course of regular business. Alternatively, TX099 is being offered to impeach the credibility of Mr. Cohen who is expected to testify that he was unaware of any individuals actually being confused between Collins Cash and BillFloat.

Trial Ex. 134	P	2017-2015 Aleks Flom Emails (ECF No. 50-1 Ex. B)		Evan Singer: rebuttal evidence to laches defenses	Defendants: H, F, R, IC	Plaintiff: Pursuant to FRE801, these emails are not hearsay to the extent they are not being offered to prove the truth of the statements in those emails, but instead, to demonstrate that BillFloat sent out emails with those statements (e.g., "I wanted to connect with you in regards to our strategic partnership program."), to a large list of potential partners. Furthermore, pursuant to FRE803(3), they demonstrate Mr. Flom's state of mind regarding specific intent to target individual companies based on their presence on a marketing list, as opposed to his personal knowledge. Also, Pursuant to FRE803(6), Mr. Singer will establish that these emails are business records of BillFloat that were contemporaneously recorded and kept in the ordinary course of business. Mr. Singer will further testify as to their foundation and relevance, in particular, to rebut Defendants' laches theory that a 2015 email from Mr. Flom to Collins Cash allegedly demonstrates knowledge of the Smart Business Funding mark that should be imputed to Plaintiff. Further, the emails compiled in TX134 are complete records.

P)	CC1189	Abraham Cohen: likelihood of confusion Steinman: impeachment	Defendants: H, F	Plaintiff: Pursuant to FRE803(1), FRE803(3), and/or FRE807, Mr. Steinman's statements in TX153 demonstrate his then-existing state of mind (i.e., confusion) and present sense impression of what had been communicated to him in an email. Further, pursuant to FRE803(6), the document is a business record of Collins Cash, that was produced by Collins Cash in this case. Plaintiff expects that Mr. Cohen will verify that the record was contemporaneous and kept in the course of regular business. Alternatively, TX153 is being offered to impeach the credibility of Mr. Cohen who is expected to testify that he was unaware of any individuals actually being confused between Collins Cash and BillFloat.
